

Dear Parents

We are fast approaching the middle week of the academic year. As you may be aware, all boys in Year 7 study the French and Latin languages for the whole year but study Spanish and German in half year blocks.

Your son's timetable will change on Monday 20th January. If he has been studying German, he will now be attending Spanish classes and vice-versa.

In order for the changes to be accommodated and staffed, your son's timetable will be changed in the following manner. The current 6 language sessions (2x French, 2x Latin and either 2x German or 2x Spanish) will now be delivered during the times that your son currently has Mathematics. The 6 current sessions that your son has Mathematics will now be used to teach 2x French, 2x Latin and the 2x new German or Spanish lessons.

Please note that all boys will continue to keep their Mathematics, Latin and French teachers the same throughout this year and that the number of periods allocated to each of these subject remains the same. No other subjects are affected in any way.

In order to preserve data integrity, these changes will be input onto our iSAMS management software over the weekend of 18th to 19th January and will be live to view on Monday 20th January.

All boys in Year 7 will be provided with a personal updated timetable during their form registration on Monday morning.

To ensure that the boys arrive on Monday with the requisite books for the new timetable, the following advice may be useful.

In addition to their normal book loading:

Boys in 7T need bring no extra books

Boys in 7EG need bring no extra books

Boys in 7H need to bring their French books

Boys in 7P need to bring their French books

Boys in 7AG need bring no extra books

Yours sincerely

Peter Milton.
